Part One: General Policy Statement

The Sale and Supply of Alcohol Act 2012 (the Act) was introduced to reform alcohol laws in New Zealand. Since 2013, certain minor and technical issues have emerged which require correction. These corrections are:

- permitting low and non alcoholic beer, wine and mead to be displayed for sale in the 'single-area' of supermarkets, and
- clarifying that any 'company' can hold a licence under the Act.

This Bill provides for the mechanisms to make these changes to the Act. The Bill does not affect the original policy intent or amend any substantive issues.
